Superintendent of Schools

CLYDE E. BOUNDS

A good staff of conscientious, capable teachers, a school board devoted to the best interests of the educational development of the youth, a co-operative group of parents and public-minded citizens, and a group of industrious students all working together make up the fine school system that we have in the Windber Area Joint Schools.

Clyde E. Bounds

Principal

The pressure of the modern world puts a premium on education. Without education there would be no progress, and we would be lost in the world of today. A greater value is put on education today because of new developments and man's progress in the space age. Education is more important than ever before. Education is a continuous process. All are capable of doing something. Develop that particular talent, liking, choice, preference, hereditary trait or self-disciplined action. Effort will bring results.

Ernest B. Cassler

ERNEST B. CASSLER

School Board

Officers of the Windber Joint School Board are: Seated: Paul Esmont, Secretary; George Lamb, Vice President; and Lloyd Shank, President. Standing: Irwin Weaver, Treasurer.

In the November election, the proposed school jointure was given final approval. The voters of the four involved school districts, Paint Borough, Eastern Paint Township, Scalp Level Borough, and Windber Borough accepted the proposal for a merged school district. When the merger becomes effective in July, 1959, elementary as well as secondary levels will operate within the one Windber Joint School District. The consolidation will offer educational as well as financial advantages to all the involved school districts.

The members of the Windber Joint School Board are: Seated: Michael Serrian, Paul Esmont, George Lamb, Lloyd Shank, Irwin Weaver, and Clyde Bounds. Standing: Hobart Sherlock, Joseph Hobba, William Mayer, Thomas Senella, Harold Keller, Charles Zankey, Carl Lawhead, and Stephen Conjelko. Alexander Rich was absent when the picture was taken.

A high school student has a limited knowledge of the many vocations and fields of work into which he or she may enter. This is why it is not easy to make the right choice when deciding upon a vocation. The right vocation should be chosen while in high school; therefore it is the responsibility of the guidance counselor to assist students in making this decision. Our guidance counselor attempts to acquaint students with the various vocations. Mr. Shaffer helps each student to discover his own qualifications and abilities which would fit a desired vocation. Vocational guidance is extremely helpful in directing and guiding the students into the right vocation. Also, our guidance counselor aids students to choose colleges.

HIGH SCHOOL

START THE MORNING WITH A FRANTIC RUSH TO FINISH AN ASSIGNMENT BEFORE FIRST PERIOD, AND END THE DAY WITH AN ARMLOAD OF BOOKS TO HELP MEET THE CHALLENGE OF A BIGGER JOB FOR TOMORROW.... HERE ARE GROUPED THE PICTURES OF THOSE STUDENTS WHO STRUGGLE WITH US TO LEARN HOW TO PUT INTO PRACTICE THE THEORIES WE STUDY, AND HOW TO EXPRESS OURSELVES.... HERE ARE THE FAMILIAR FACES OF THOSE AROUND US IN OUR SCHOOL WORLD.

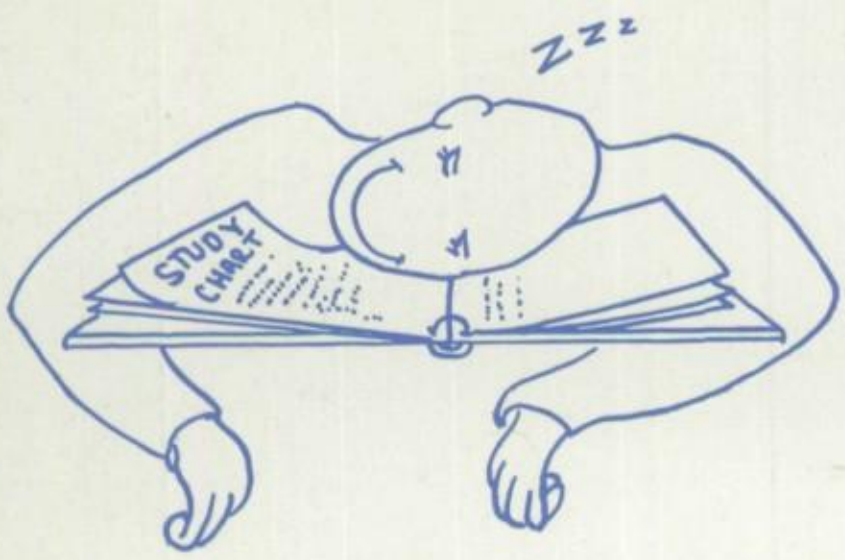
CLASSES

The Freshmen

The world of freshmen opens the door to a bewildering collection of studies: algebra, Ivanhoe, shop, J.B.T., and many more. Each course is meant to give the new high school student an idea of what he may choose to study later in the next three years. One of the highlights of their year is giving a party for the other classes at school. Here they learn how to work on committees and to accept the responsibility of class action. Once their party is given, freshmen feel that they are now a very real part of the high school world.

The Freshman officers S. Kush, President, J. LaPlaca, Treasurer, R. Frasca, Vice-President, J. Yankowsky, Secretary, and Mr. Yocca, Advisor are discussing future plans for the class.

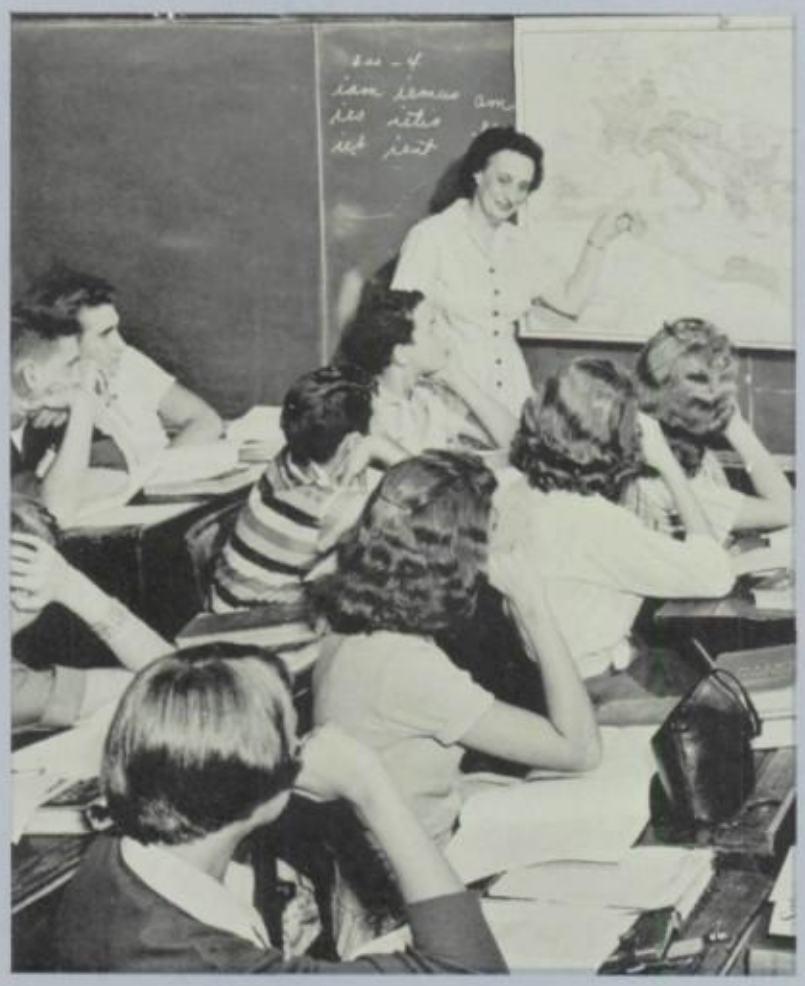
Under the watchful eye of Mr. Weaver, G. Stone, A. Lehman, and D. Ashbrook work busily in woodshop.



Mrs. Probert's English class are really drilling those verbs.

The students in Mrs. Heckler's Home economics classes are sewing a project of their own for part of a semester.

Mr. Kawchak watches closely as one of his algebra students works a problem.



Miss Weaver uses the map to locate Rome for her Latin class. Students learn that Latin helps them understand their grammar better.

The Sophomores

The Officers of the sophomore class M. Charnego, President; P. Roscetti, Vice President; C. Hornyak, Secretary; and B. Wolford, Treasurer discuss class projects with their advisor, Mr. Koontz.

Geometry—Caesar—typing—shop—and track. The world of sophomores is so full of study and activity they have no time to think of how they are getting along as a class. Yet one of the nicest dances of the year is given by the sophomores during the Valentine season. Then, the sophomores with one more year of learning, put into better use the lessons learned in planning a dance in their freshman year. During this year, the boys grow taller and the girls get prettier and they are young ladies and gentlemen almost before they know it.

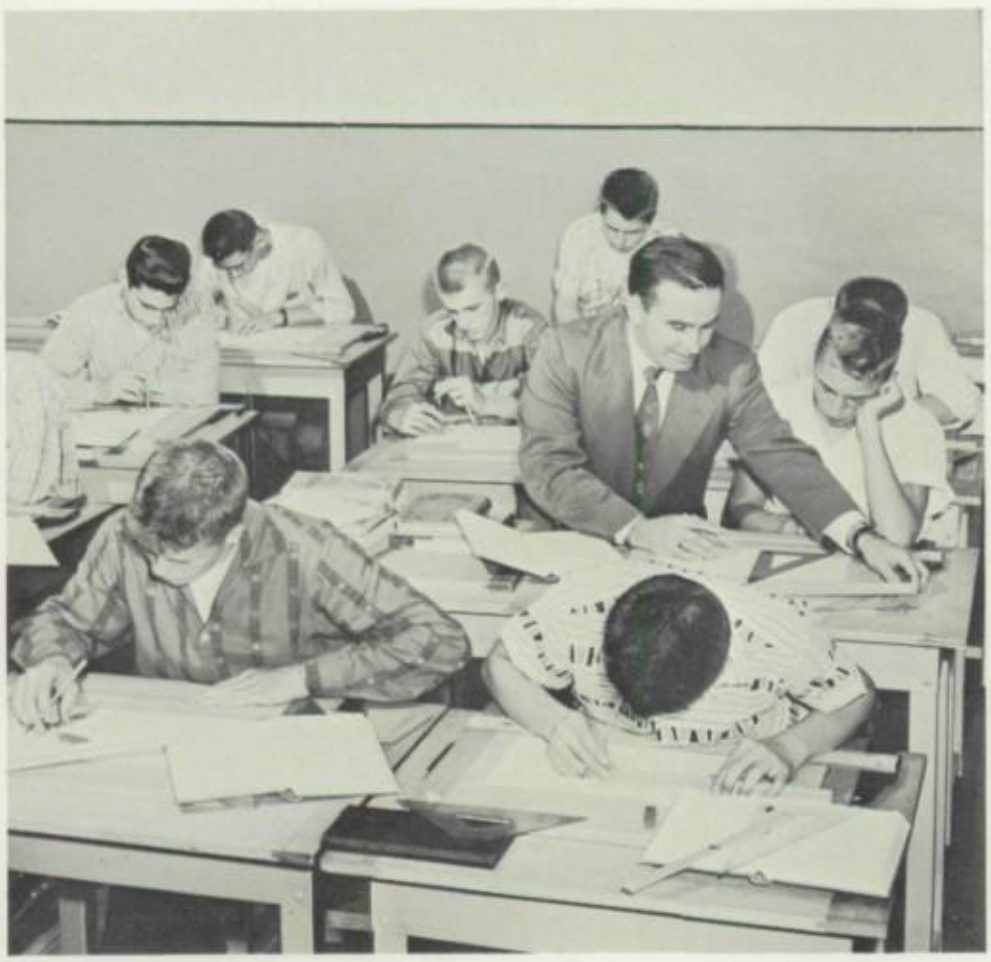
The metal shop teacher, Mr. Prohonic, instructs R. Webb in the proper use of the lathe.

Sophomore students R. Cover and J. Lawhead are busy working at their microscopes in Mr. Durst's biology class.

The students shown here are working their way through the crowded halls toward their next class.



J. Hancharik is receiving a few pointers from Mr. Yocca in drafting class.

Mr. Freeman discusses the day's assignment with one of his sophomore history classes.

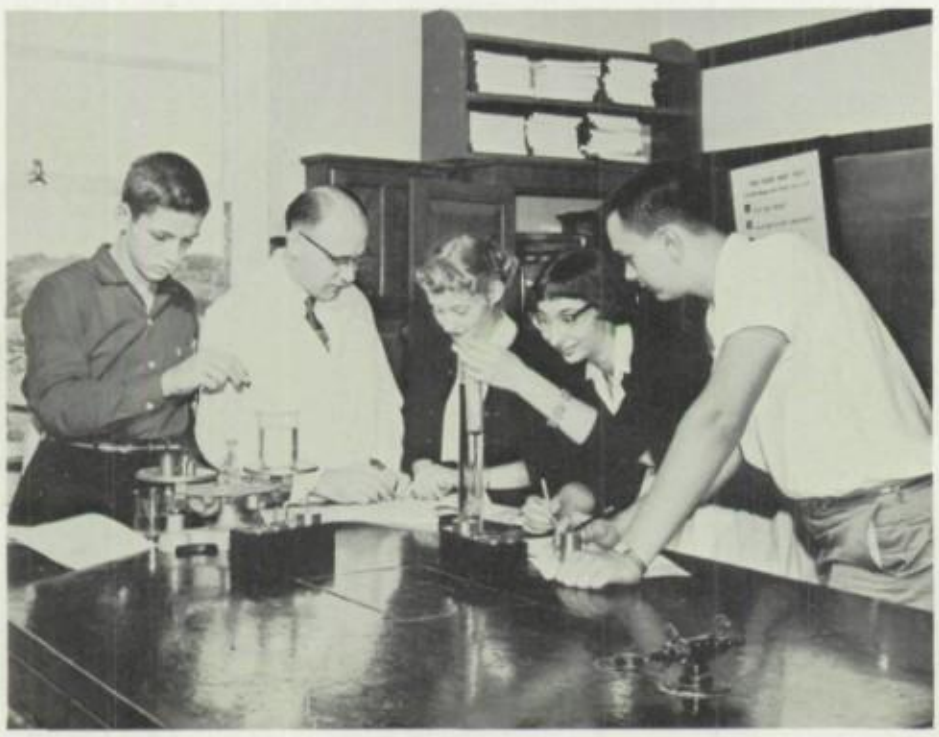
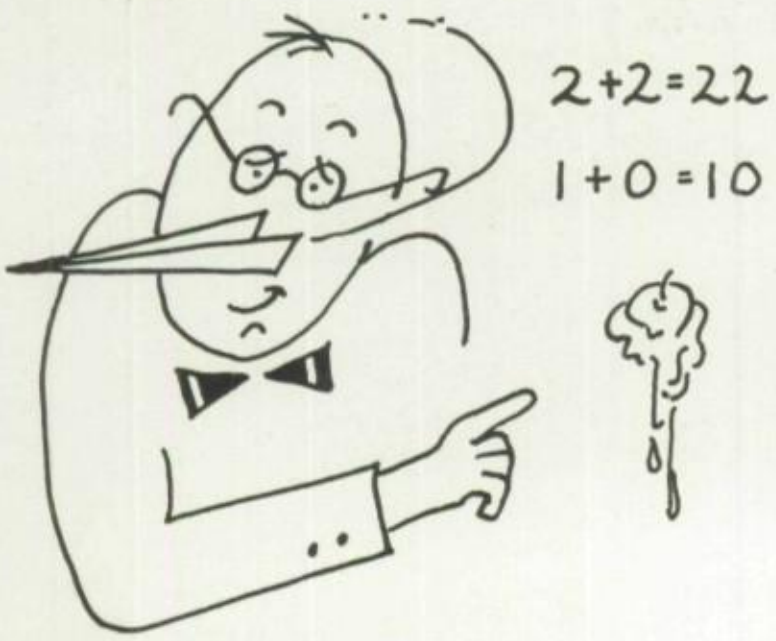
The Juniors

From physics to trigonometry to Sandburg, the juniors are a busy class. They are beginning to use well the promise they have shown in activities and classes during their freshman and sophomore years. As underclassmen, they were preparing to lead; and as seniors, they will lead, but with their eyes ahead to jobs and careers. In this junior year, the students are more self-confident and more assured. They can work and enjoy their activities because they have another year in which to enjoy them. Juniors annually give the prom to the seniors, and vie previous classes in imaginative decorations.

The Junior class officers, who are J. Livingstone, treasurer; M. A. Bartolomucci, Secretary; T. Heckler, President; and B. Wagner, Vice President; talk to their advisor, Mr. Saylor.



Mr. Saylor shows J. A. Sharpe how to calculate the information given in the experiment that B. Deyarmin, M. B. DiGuilio, and S. Kocsis are doing.



The photographer's assistants, whose feet ached at the end of taking Stylus pictures, are S. Yanik, M. Severine, M. T. Naylor, class editor, F. Sell, K. Kopcik, an artist, L. Leach, senior editor, and D. Betz, activities editor.

M. A. Alexander "racks her brain" to give Mr. Mease the answers to his questions on congruent triangles.

Mr. Wagner shows E. Webb how to use the brake on the reflex machine, while interested driving students look on.

Mr. Emery checks the work of his art students. They are sketching in this picture.

The students of Mr. Wagner's driving class look at the equipment they will be using this year.

This Is

Getting to class on time is just the beginning in a senior day crammed with studies and activities. Joy Michouls and Steve Yanik arrive first, closely followed by Larry Smith and Joe Kush.

Joy and Steve display the good study habits that are behind the success of each class day. Joy seems satisfied with her work, but Steve looks weary. Linda Leach, in the background, is too busy to notice the photographer.

Asking and answering questions helps fix the lesson in mind. Our senior duo volunteer an answer which they hope is right. The other seniors are looking lively too.

Got the assignment written down so you don't forget it? Joy and Steve probably do as they pack up books and prepare to leave class.

Our World

Every morning before classes begin, Mr. Cassler greets us over the P.A. system and tells us what is on the agenda for the day.

Rosalie Maurizio and Eddie Pipon look over the display pictures of Bea Wagner and Fred Sell before deciding what type pictures they want of themselves.

D. Dunmire, B. Skillman, and L. Smith stop to talk to J. A. Frazier between classes.

Two freshman girls stop to check the bulletin board inside the main door for the week's activities. Notices of sports and social events for the week will always be found here.

Informals

Music

The band elected C. Goetz, treasurer, E. Olsen, president, C. Hostetler, secretary, and F. Rich, vice president as their officers for the year.

Things are run smoothly in the Mixed Chorus with J. Delisa and B. Wagner as president and vice president. Other officers are J. Di Giacomo, librarian, B. Dona, librarian, and C. Wozny, secretary.

The officers of the Junior Girls' Chorus, P. Sanderson, vice president, D. Dunmire, president, K. Miller, secretary, A. Kolar, librarian, P. Smith, librarian, look over the music that they plan to sing this year.

K. Stevens, secretary, M. L. Tomchik, librarian, M. L. Federko, president and R. Petro, librarian, are the officers of the Senior Girls' Chorus.

of Department

Mr. Guisto, through his amazing work, has made the Windber Joint High School Band one of the best in this area. The band's performance at the football games was always received with delight. Orchids to you, Mr. Guisto, for a marvelous job.

Miss Aitken came to Windber High this year from Dale. She has done an excellent job with our choruses. We hope she will enjoy teaching here as much as we enjoy having her.

The accompanists for the choruses are L. Leach, A. Penrod, and J. Saxton.

Here the Boys' Quartet, consisting of J. Hoffman, J. Shaffer, E. Pipon, J. Delisa, are accompanied by Miss Aitken.

THE SAYING, "ALL WORK AND NO PLAY MAKES JACK A DULL BOY", IS BALANCED AT WINDBER WITH A WIDE CHOICE OF CLUBS AND ACTIVITIES..... THE FOLLOWING SECTION SHOWS US BOTH FORMALLY, GROUPED WITH THE FRIENDS WHO SHARE OUR MANY INTERESTS, AND INFORMALLY, ENJOYING THE DANCES AND THE FUN OF CLUB ACTIVITIES.... THIS IS THE LIGHTER SIDE OF OUR WORLD.

ACTIVITIES

Candid Shots

Taking a break in their routine, our hall monitors gather on the steps for some gossip. Anyone for work?

Here is a shot of the public ceremonies inaugurating our new chapter of the National Honor Society. Students from Shade, who presented us our charter, appear on the right as sponsors.

Mr. Yocca manages a smile as he discusses problems with his Stage Crew. The boys are invaluable in getting hard jobs done around school.

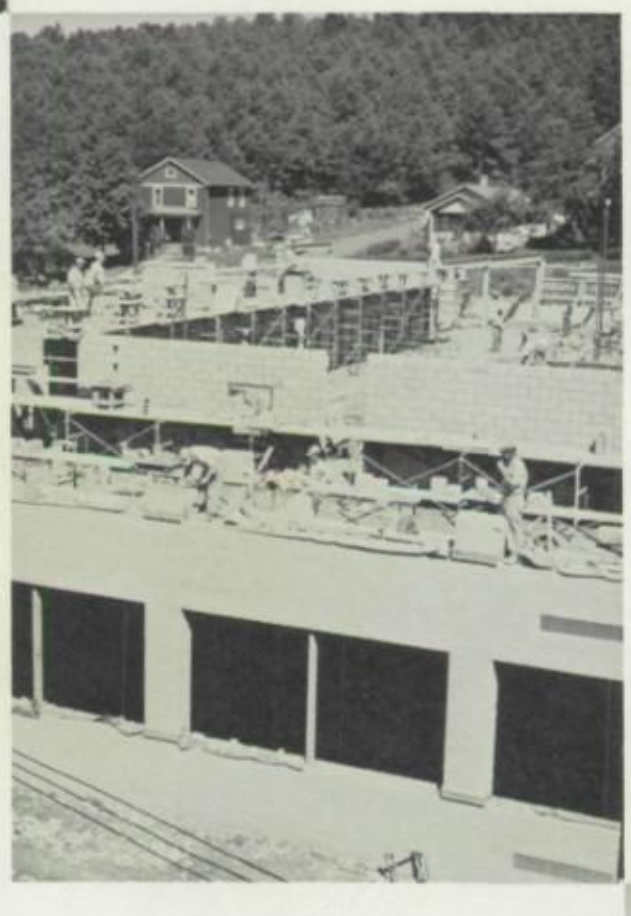
Check in—check out. Lillian Kopasek's head whirls with all the business going on in the library.

Becky Mock politely asks Bernard Negrey to go into class—or else!

Under Construction - - -

Out of the mud, bricks, and noise of construction is rising our new school. Workmen in the foreground pour concrete for the boiler room. The new walls of classrooms loom in the background.



They are standing on the walls now, but soon we'll be using this section for offices, the auditorium, and the music department.

Maybe they look like they are playing pinochle on the second floor sub flooring, but the men having a conference have big problems to solve.

Senior

The Japanese term "Sayonara" means both hello and goodbye. To the seniors, we said Sayonara—goodbye—at the prom. But their careers and jobs say hello to them. Our students here pause between hello and goodbye, between the present and future, to enjoy the Junior-Senior Prom.

Prom

Arlene Strapel and Jimmy Kirkwood are pleased to lead some of their fellow students into the prom. All are watched with interest by the blue-jean set.

"Please sign our guest book," asked the junior dance committee for the prom. Doris Holsopple signs, while her escort, Joy Link, Tom Papinchak, and Carol Rizzo watch.

No dance is complete without refreshments and the chance to talk to friends. The music room was crowded with hungry conversationalists later in the evening.

Departing guests watch a few couples dancing the last set before all prepare to go home. Sayonara, everyone.

Here some future teachers listen attentively while Linda goes over one of the many exciting experiences had by a fellow future teacher.

of America

In performing her duties as sponsor of the Future Teachers, Mrs. Shaffer gives out teaching assignments to students who have free periods. Mary Theresa Naylor, like all other club members, enjoys the idea of going into a class and feeling the responsibility of a real teacher.

Mary Theresa has the attention of the class as she goes over a Spanish lesson, "Amigo."

"The Ernest B. Cassler Future Teachers of America Club meeting is now in session." Our principal seems pleased with the work these students have done and he is always willing to say a good word for them. These students answer calls for teachers and are always ready, willing, and able.

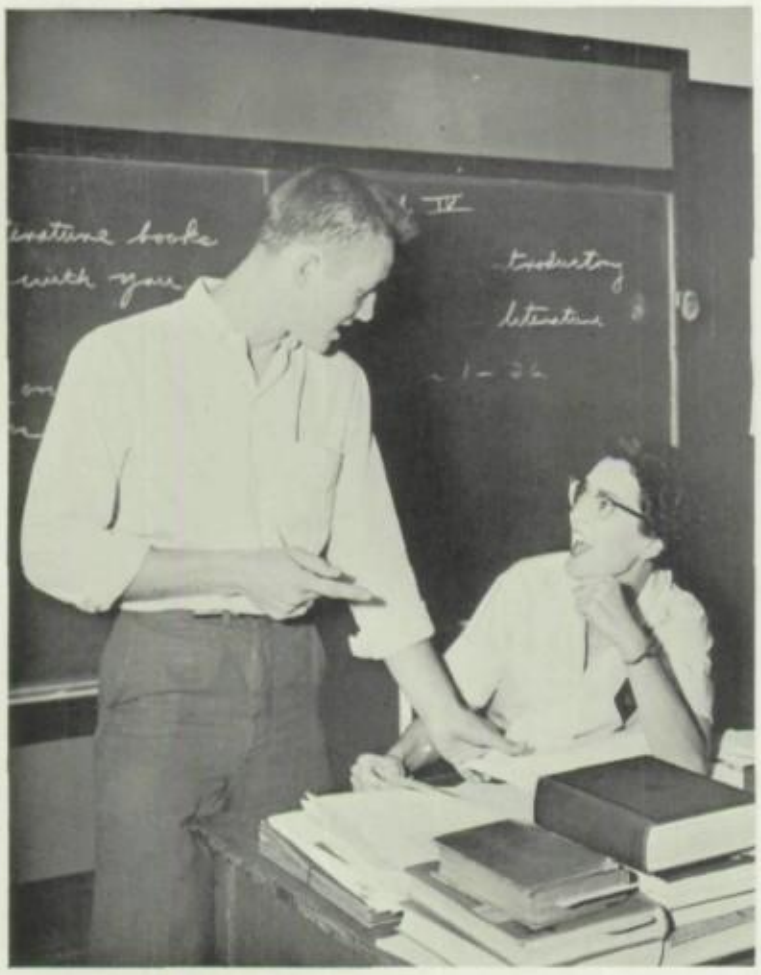
Hard work and co-operation go into the creation of a yearbook, and the students who participate find the experience a memorable one. For underclassmen, the book shows a glimpse of their world. For the seniors, the yearbook tries to capture on paper the last of their high school events, the faces of their classmates, and one final look at their special world.



Eric Olsen and Miss Duncan "ironing" out one of the many difficulties they come upon setting up our yearbook.

The members of the Business Staff are: Row 1: J. Stone, B. Ruby, J. Vislosky, I. Owens, J. Kallay, and Mr. Shruda, advisor. Row 2: E. Seger, C. Wozny, J. Piatek, and B. Shearer. Row 3: N. Slagle, R. Mock, and C. Shaffer.

The business staff has the job, often tedious, of typing all copy for the yearbook. They are our contact with the public in soliciting advertising; they handle all subscriptions and orders for the book; and they are the press agents who encourage the students to buy the Stylus. These important jobs don't attract much notice or publicity the way the editorial jobs do, yet without an eager and well-trained business staff, the yearbook work would be harder for the editors. These pages show our business staff at work.

Rebecca Mock demonstrates copy sheets to the typists of the Business Staff. They all look as though they understand, but wait until they do their first sheet!

The Business Managers and assistants work hard to get the subscription campaign underway. Going over last year's records gives them an idea of the job ahead.

The senior editors explain their needs to the typists of the Business Staff.

The junior editors unscramble copy for the typists. Next year they will prepare writeups and captions only.

Members of the Senior Y-Teens are: Row 1: B. Holsopple, B. Thomas, D. Kiss, A. Penrod, M. McCreary, J. Foust, T. Mann, and Miss Weaver, advisor. Row 2: P. Jones, S. Martin, B. Drazenovich, J. Frazier, J. Deyarmin, C. Hostetler. Row 3: F. Yanke, C. Foltz, M. Molnar, P. Ferguson, and S. Leipchak.

J. Foust, F. Yanki, A. Penrod, S. Martin, are the officers of the Senior Y-Teens. It is their duty to see that the annual activities of this club are carried out.

Y-Teens

B. Statler, M. Snyder, A. Strapel are the officers of the Junior Y-Teens. They take great responsibility as the officers and prepare the girls as future Senior Y-Teens.

Members of the Junior Y-Teens are: Row 1: K. Kluk, A. Bostock, H. Watyka, M. Baer, B. Brakat, M. Locke, C. Dalimonte, B. Bossi, and Mrs. Zack, advisor. Row 2: J. Penner, R. McCuch, F. Rollo, C. Dramatics Club

Kathy Kopcik holds the attention of fellow Thespians as she goes over a scene from a play. This group is an honorary club within the Dramatics Club. Only those who appear before an audience or speak publicly may be eligible for membership honors.

The Dramatics Club offers students an opportunity to appear in plays. The National Thespian Society is a smaller group within the club limited to those who have performed publicly. Club activities were limited this year due to the lack of an auditorium, but students were able to present several short plays in the Visual Aids Room.

Hi-Y

The Y-Teens and Hi-Y are two social service clubs affiliated with the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. Their purpose is to give boys and girls high standards and ideals to live by, and to train them in serving the public. The poor and needy of the community are the special concern of our Y-Teen and Hi-Y groups. Not forgetting fun, these three clubs also sponsor dances for the student body during the year.

Members of the Hi-Y are: Row 1: Mr. Emery, Advisor, A. Rich, B. Senior, G. Pavel, L. Smith, J. Shaffer, and Mr. Guisto, Advisor. Row 2: E. Pipon, J. Delisa, J. Kirkwood, and B. Deyarmin. Row 3: T. Mercer, G. Thomas, R. Rollo, G. Weaver, and J. Latz.

Commercial Club

The Commercial Club was formed to help along those students who plan to enter the business field. Miss Santucci and Mr. Shuster spend time with this club, and seeing some of their students succeed in the business world is one of the rewards. The club membership is opened to commercial students in eleventh and twelfth grades. It gives many the start they need for a good career.

Row 1: K. Stevens, C. Gindlesperger, G. Merisko, B. Holsopple, K. McDowell, M. Turcato, M. Spisok, Miss Santucci. Row 2: B. Landi, B. Dona, B. Kurcis, E. Webb, J. Ziglin, J. Livingston, S. Cotz, L. Future Nurses

The purpose of the Future Nurses is to give the girls a better idea of nursing as a career. The members are: Row 1: G. Bartolomucci, D. Finnegan, B. Smith, G. Bonitz, L. Liedy, L. Hoffman, G. McCune, Miss Washko, Advisor. Row 2: P. Misosky, H. Horwath, C. Mickey, B. Locke, V. Mucciola, S. Blackburn, L. Bossi. Row 3: K. Fagan, S. Gasper, J. Sharpe, L. Kaufman, G. Keller, T. Honadle, P. G. Bartolomucci, P. Venanzio, G. Bonitz, and B. Wagner are the officers representing the nurses of the future.

Officers E. Zabrosky, M. Molnar, V. Winas, J. Wozny, and L. Campitell are in charge of the Future Homemakers.

Future Homemakers

Dances

Sandra Hagan and Buddy Wagner enter the Recreation Hall to attend a dance sponsored by the Hi-Times. The hall served for our school activities this year. Both Sandy and Buddy look forward to an enjoyable evening.

Couples pictured here are certainly enjoying the dance! Is that a monkey in the background? No, just a souvenir hunter.

Johnny Rubal, a Windber High graduate who now works for W.C.R.O., serves as disc-jockey at the Johnstown-Windber Pep Dance.

Music for the Freshman Snow Festival was furnished by this lively group of our own musically inclined students.

These boys aren't camera shy, but when it comes to dancing,—well, that's a different story.

All right boys, let's get in there and win!

Will Bernie Ripper be able to tap the ball to his waiting teammate?

"Hey fellows, come here. I need some help."

Bill Kovalsky snatches another rebound for the home forces.

There is a mad scramble for this rebound.

"Here it comes, Pete—grab it!"

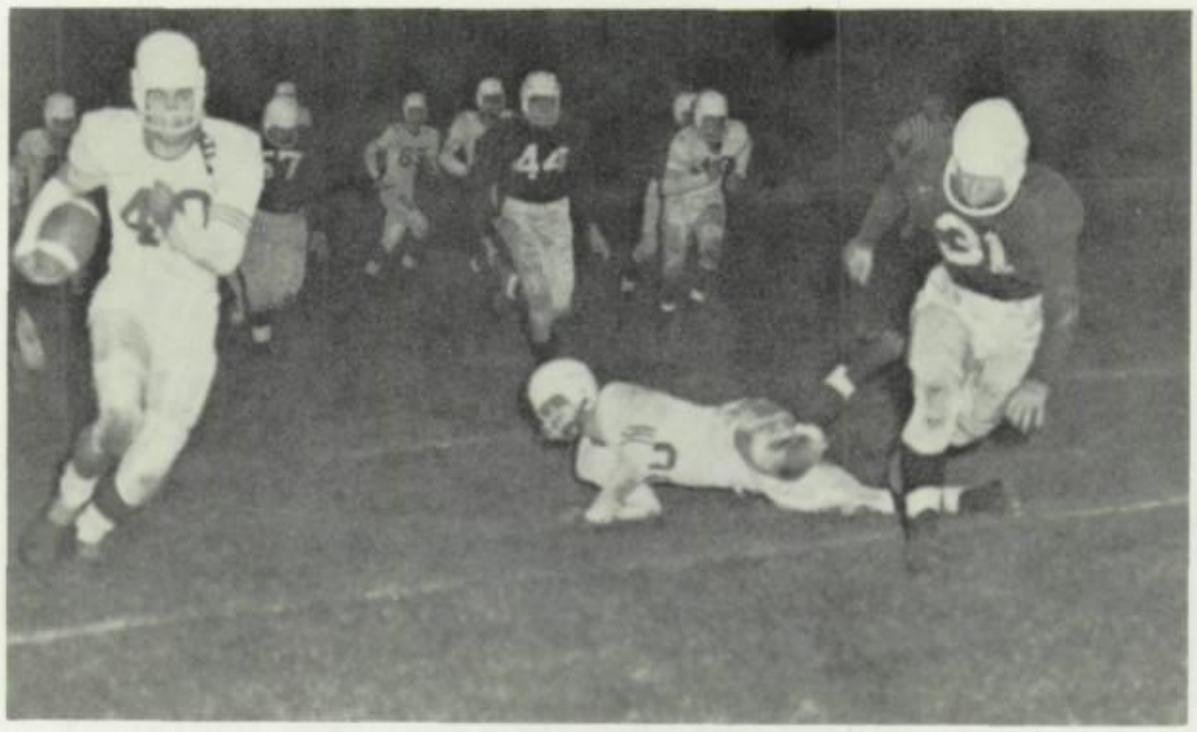
John Kawchak-Head Coach

The Windber Ramblers grabbed a surprisingly easy 40-14 victory over Monessen in their opening game of the season. After being held to a 7-7 tie at the end of the first quarter, Kawchak's men broke loose for 20 points in the second quarter and the Greyhounds of Monessen never recovered from the initial shock of the Ramblers' potent offense. On the third play from scrimmage, Tom Marron, Windber's speedy left halfback, scored the first of four touchdowns by running 52 yards around right end. Bob Minitti kicked the first of four successful conversions.



T. Marron gallops to score one of his many touchdowns throughout the season.

Gene Heeter tries desperately to outrun an onrushing tackler.

Johnstown High School spotted Windber Area a 13-point lead and then roared back for a surprisingly easy 36-13 win in the traditional battle at the Point Stadium. This score marked the highest total by the Trojans in the series since the 1917 team grabbed a 40-0 win. Windber won the 1923 contest, 32-0. Windber scored twice in the first eight minutes of play on a 51-yard drive, capped by a 34-yard pass play, and a 66-yard punt return by Tom Marron.

The Ramblers dumped Chambersburg from the undefeated ranks by taking a 14-12 win in Windber Stadium. The Ramblers scored on drives of 64 and 80 yards to take a 14-0 lead and then staved off a last ditch effort of the visitors. Fourteen plays and four first downs carried the ball to the Chambersburg 13 as the first period ended. On the third play of the second period Tom Sherwin broke off left guard for the final yard. Bob Minitti's successful placement gave Windber a

Altoona High School overpowered Windber, 20-6, at Windber Stadium for their fourth straight win over the Ramblers. It was the first time in Windber's 44-year history that any school has accomplished this feat. Windber was the first to score, when they scored on the opening play of the second period. The Ramblers drove 74 yards in nine plays with Tom Marron going over from two yards out. But this was far from enough, for Altoona dominated the ensuing part of the contest with their great size.

Windber Area High School warmed up for its traditional battle with Johnstown by trouncing Har-Brack, 40-19, in Windber Stadium. Tom Marron, Windber's 155 pound senior left halfback, crossed the goal line four times. He carried the ball 15 times and gained 225 yards for an average of 15 yards. Senior quarterback Bob Minitti tossed a touchdown pass to Gene Heeter and also one to Tom Marron. The first score for the victors came on a drive of 79 yards.

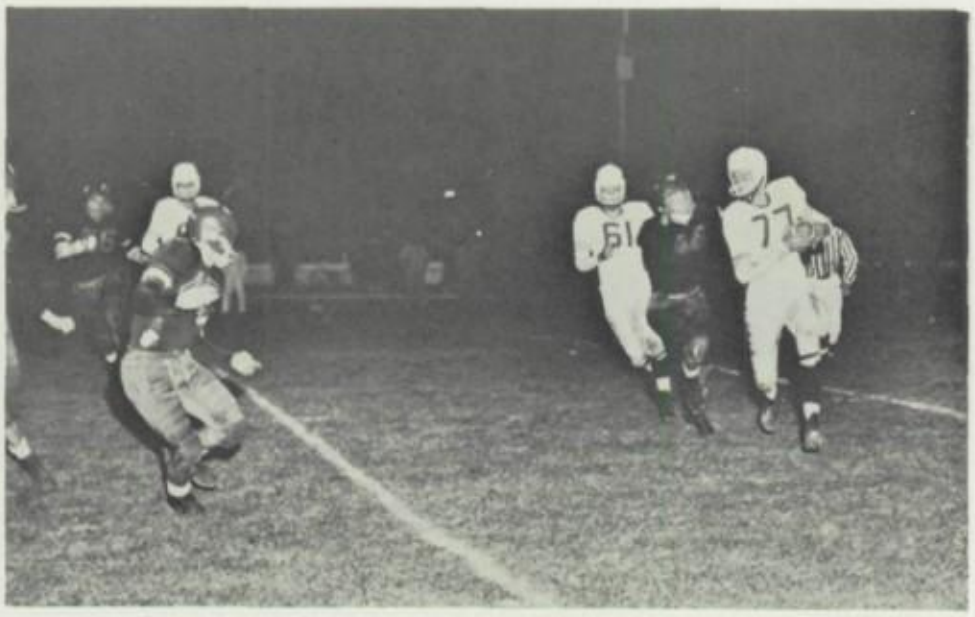
Will Bob Minitti handoff or keep the ball?

This is how the Windber bench looks in the eyes of the enemy.

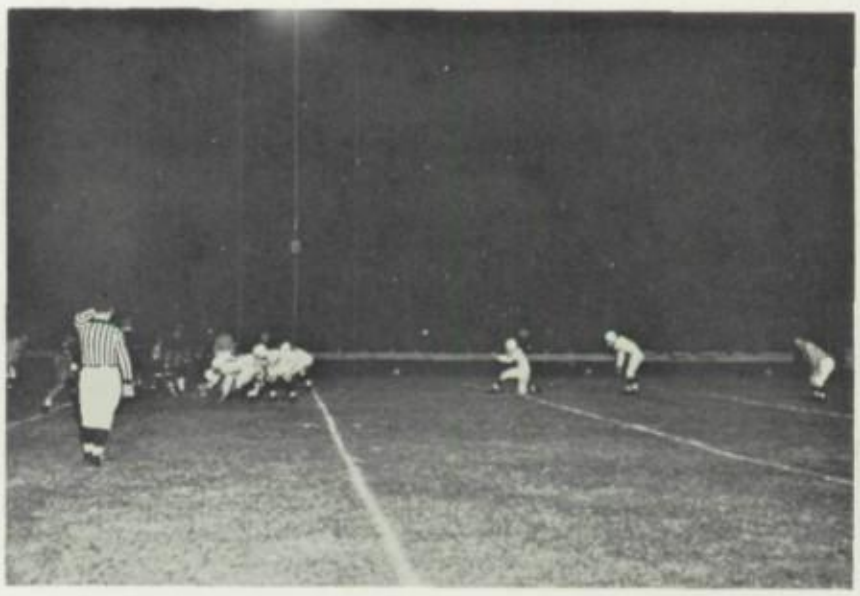
The Windber Ramblers played the role of spoiler for the second straight week by downing Conemaugh Township 32-20 at the Windber Stadium. It was the first loss for the Indians after five striaght wins. The Ramblers of Coach John Kawchak, on the defense most of the night, pushed over five touchdowns in quick-developing series. The Ramblers scored first on a 49 yard pass from Bob Minitti to end, John Boruch. Tom Marron, Windber's leading scorer, crossed the goal line on an 88 yard jaunt around left end behind good downfield blocking.

Mixing their drives with long runs and passes, Windber Area Joint High School's Ramblers romped to a 44-7 victory over Blairsville. It was the fifth win—third in succession—for Coach John Kawchak's Ramblers. The Ramblers had possession of the ball 10 times during the game and scored on seven of them. Six different players crossed the goal line, with Tom Marron the only one scoring twice. Coach Kawchak cleared his bench in the last quarter with the reserves playing the final 11½ minutes.

The Windber Ramblers rose to their greatest heights of the season in holding powerful Pittsburgh North Catholic to a 7-7 deadlock at Windber Stadium. It was the first blemish on this year's record for the Trojans. Midway in the closing period, a pass from Bob Minitti to Tom Marron covered 32 yards with the latter crossing the goal line. However, the play and possible winning score was nullified when a Rambler lineman was offsides. The Rambler line, outweighed by almost 40 pounds per man, stopped a North drive in the first period.



A pair of unseen hands are reaching for Gene Heeter.



Bob Minitti will try for the extra point.

Windber High Ramblers shattered Indiana 0-23 game winning streak and sent the Braves home with a 25-0 lacing. The humiliating setback was the first loss for the Indians since early in 1956 when Vandergrift grabbed an 18-6 win. In averaging last year's 14-6 setback, coach John Kawchak's team gained their sixth win against two losses and a tie. This also marked the fourth win for the Ramblers against a previously undefeated club. The Blue and White gridders divided their scoring evenly, pushing a touchdown across in each quarter.

McKeesport High School's Tigers proved to be good "mudders" in blanking the Ramblers 20-0. The game was played in a steady rain and the visitors posted the first shut-out on Windber this season. Neither team completed any passes—all tried in the first half. Windber attempted four while the Tigers failed on two aerials. A fumble and an offsides penalty ruined two Rambler threats in the third period. A drive was started by the Blue and White on the 28 and ended on McKeesport's 19.

Senior Sports Feature

J. Csordas, J. Repko, J. Kush—THEN.

And NOW.

In 1947, the newly formed Windber Recreation Commission started a drive for funds to build a play center in the borough of Windber. Original plans called for a stadium, football practice field, baseball diamonds, equipped playground facilities for younger children, and many other recreation features including a swimming pool. Time and circumstances have altered the plans. In the years since 1947, the Commission has been able to build a stadium and baseball diamond located at South Twenty-fourth Street. The strategically located playground centers in the borough are sponsored by the Windber School District and the other school systems of the present jointure.

Starting out with enthusiasm in 1947, three small first grade boys, John Csordas, John Repko, and Joe Kush, collected pennies from their classmates to help build the play center. They are shown above giving the collected money to Superintendent of Schools, Clyde E. Bounds, who promoted the Commission's program among the students and teachers. The children and their parents expected that they would benefit in some way from the recreation program. Little did the boys realize that they would one day play football in the stadium that was then a dream. Little did anyone realize that today those three small first graders would be the three strong varsity lettermen shown in the second picture. Who knows what the future holds for them?

Senior Council & Advisor

The Senior Council is a group of students elected by the senior class to represent them in planning events and dealing with various problems that arise during the senior year. The council will often arrange things when an assembly of the entire class is impossible. Mr. Cassler advises them on how to conserve their money and the council reports on the financial status of the seniors to him and to the class. The council helps to inform the class officers of the wishes of the seniors concerning such matters as the class picnic and banquet. They also assist in planning the Varsity "W" Dance and are always around to help out if a special problem arises.

Mr. Wagner, our senior class advisor, has aided the seniors greatly in their activities. He has given freely of his time and ideas to make the senior year a success. His excellent advice and leadership have helped to make our senior year complete.

Bea Wagner was the Fall Festival representative for our school. The Festival was sponsored by the American Legion in Somerset, and included girls representing Meyersdale, Forbes, and Somerset High Schools. All the girls took part in a parade and attended a formal ball the final night of the Festival.

Seniors Kathie Kopcik and Donna Betz hunt information in the library while Mr. Davis shows Linda Leach and Eric Olsen where to look for English authors. Carol Smith and Mary Theresa Naylor are busy with their own research as Sandra Hagan, in the foreground looks bored about the whole thing. Terry Mercer reads quietly while the others work.

Maple Queen

Best Wishes and Lots of Luck to you in the future
Lois

Lois Woods appeared in a ballet costume to give her dramatic reading and dance as a contestant in the contest for Maple Queen.

Formal photos by Cover

The Maple Queen Contest, sponsored annually by the Somerset Maple Producers Association, sees girls from the county competing for the crown and title of Queen Maple. Girls are judged on poise, beauty, talent, and intelligence. The winner presides over the Maple Festival in the spring, and the girls chosen second and third are her maids of honor. Other contestants attend the festival as members of the court.

Windber is proud of our second place winner Lois Woods, who is the first girl from our school to place among the top three. For her talent presentation, Lois gave a combination dramatic reading and ballet dance number entitled "Tina the Ballerina."

Lois appeared previously in the Maple Festival pageants of 1950, 1951, and 1956. She has danced twice at Syria Mosque in Pittsburgh, and appeared once over television in the Wilkkens Amateur Hour. Lois performs frequently for civic organizations in the area and is often called upon to sponsor talent shows. She has graduated from the Wheeler Finishing School in Pittsburgh and expects to receive her teachers diploma this summer from the training school operated in New York City by the Dance Educators of America. Among her hobbies are painting, playing the piano, and doll collecting. After graduation, Lois plans to teach dancing.

Miss Errolene Haupt of Stoystown (center) was selected Pennsylvania's Queen Maple XII. At her left is Miss Lois Woods, first runner-up, and to her right is Miss Linda Reed of Somerset, second runner-up.

The break between classes finds Barry Senior, Pam Sturtzman, Bea Wagner, and John Repko at the water fountain discussing the laboratory experiment.

Informals

The votes are in; the officers chosen. The P.O.D. classes tabulate the votes in the class elections.

Tom Knapp, Bob Sendek, Connie Mickey, and Jerry Stone discuss the day's P.O.D. lesson with the teacher, Miss Murphy.

The tripod has many uses. Jim Kirkwood and Jim Fagan demonstrate one of these while Mr. Mease and the class look on attentively.

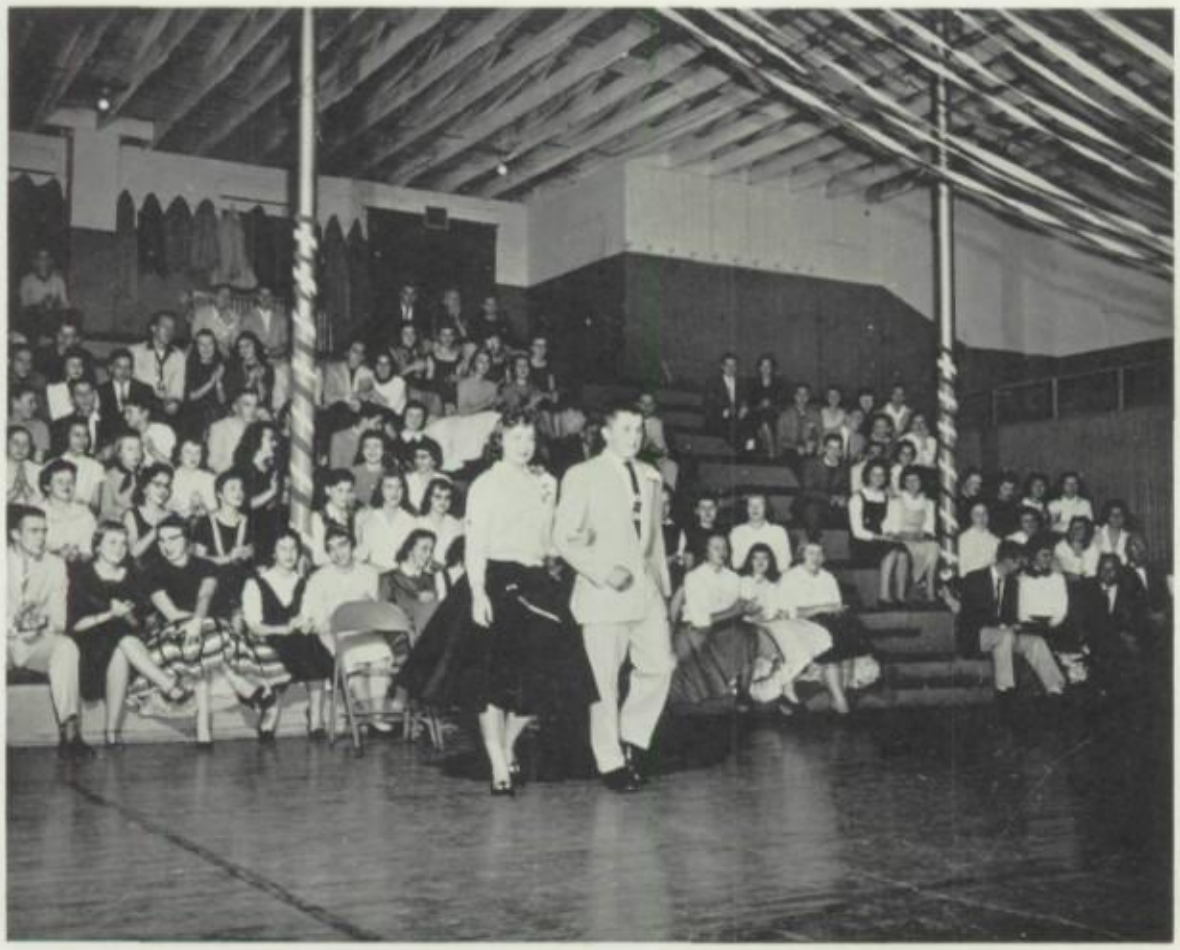
Varsity "W"

King of Football John Csordas and Queen of Football Cynthia Wozny pose at the Varsity "W" Dance with their young crown bearers Carl Guisto and Joan Delisa. Kneeling: T. Conjersky, J. Repko, R. Dalimonte, J. Kush, S. Kapash, G. Heeter, the crown bearers, C. Shuster, R. Minitti, R. Sendek, L. Sabo, T. DePolo, and J. Delisa, attendants to the King. Standing: G. Bartolomucci, M. T. Naylor, S. Hagan, L.Woods, M. A. Molnar, J. A. Frazier, J. Berkey, C. Mickey, J. Faust, N. Miller, P. Ferguson, and B. Wagner, attend ants to the Queen.

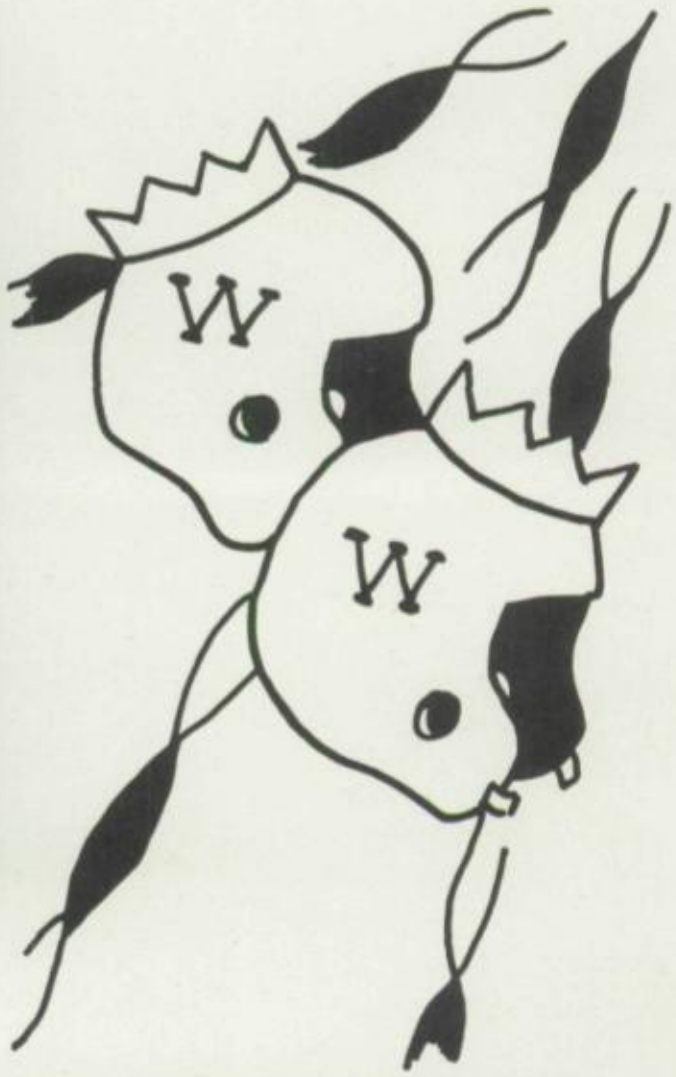
The King, J. Csordas, and Queen, C. Wozny are being crowned by J. Fagan and R. Mock. The King and Queen were also presented golden footballs by Mr. Wagner as gifts from the members of the class.

Behind the table, J. Lehman, K. Kopcik, J. A. Faust, and M. McCreary serve B. Negry, G. Heeter, and G. Waltos refreshments at intermission of the dance. This is a new feature of the Varsity "W" Dance.

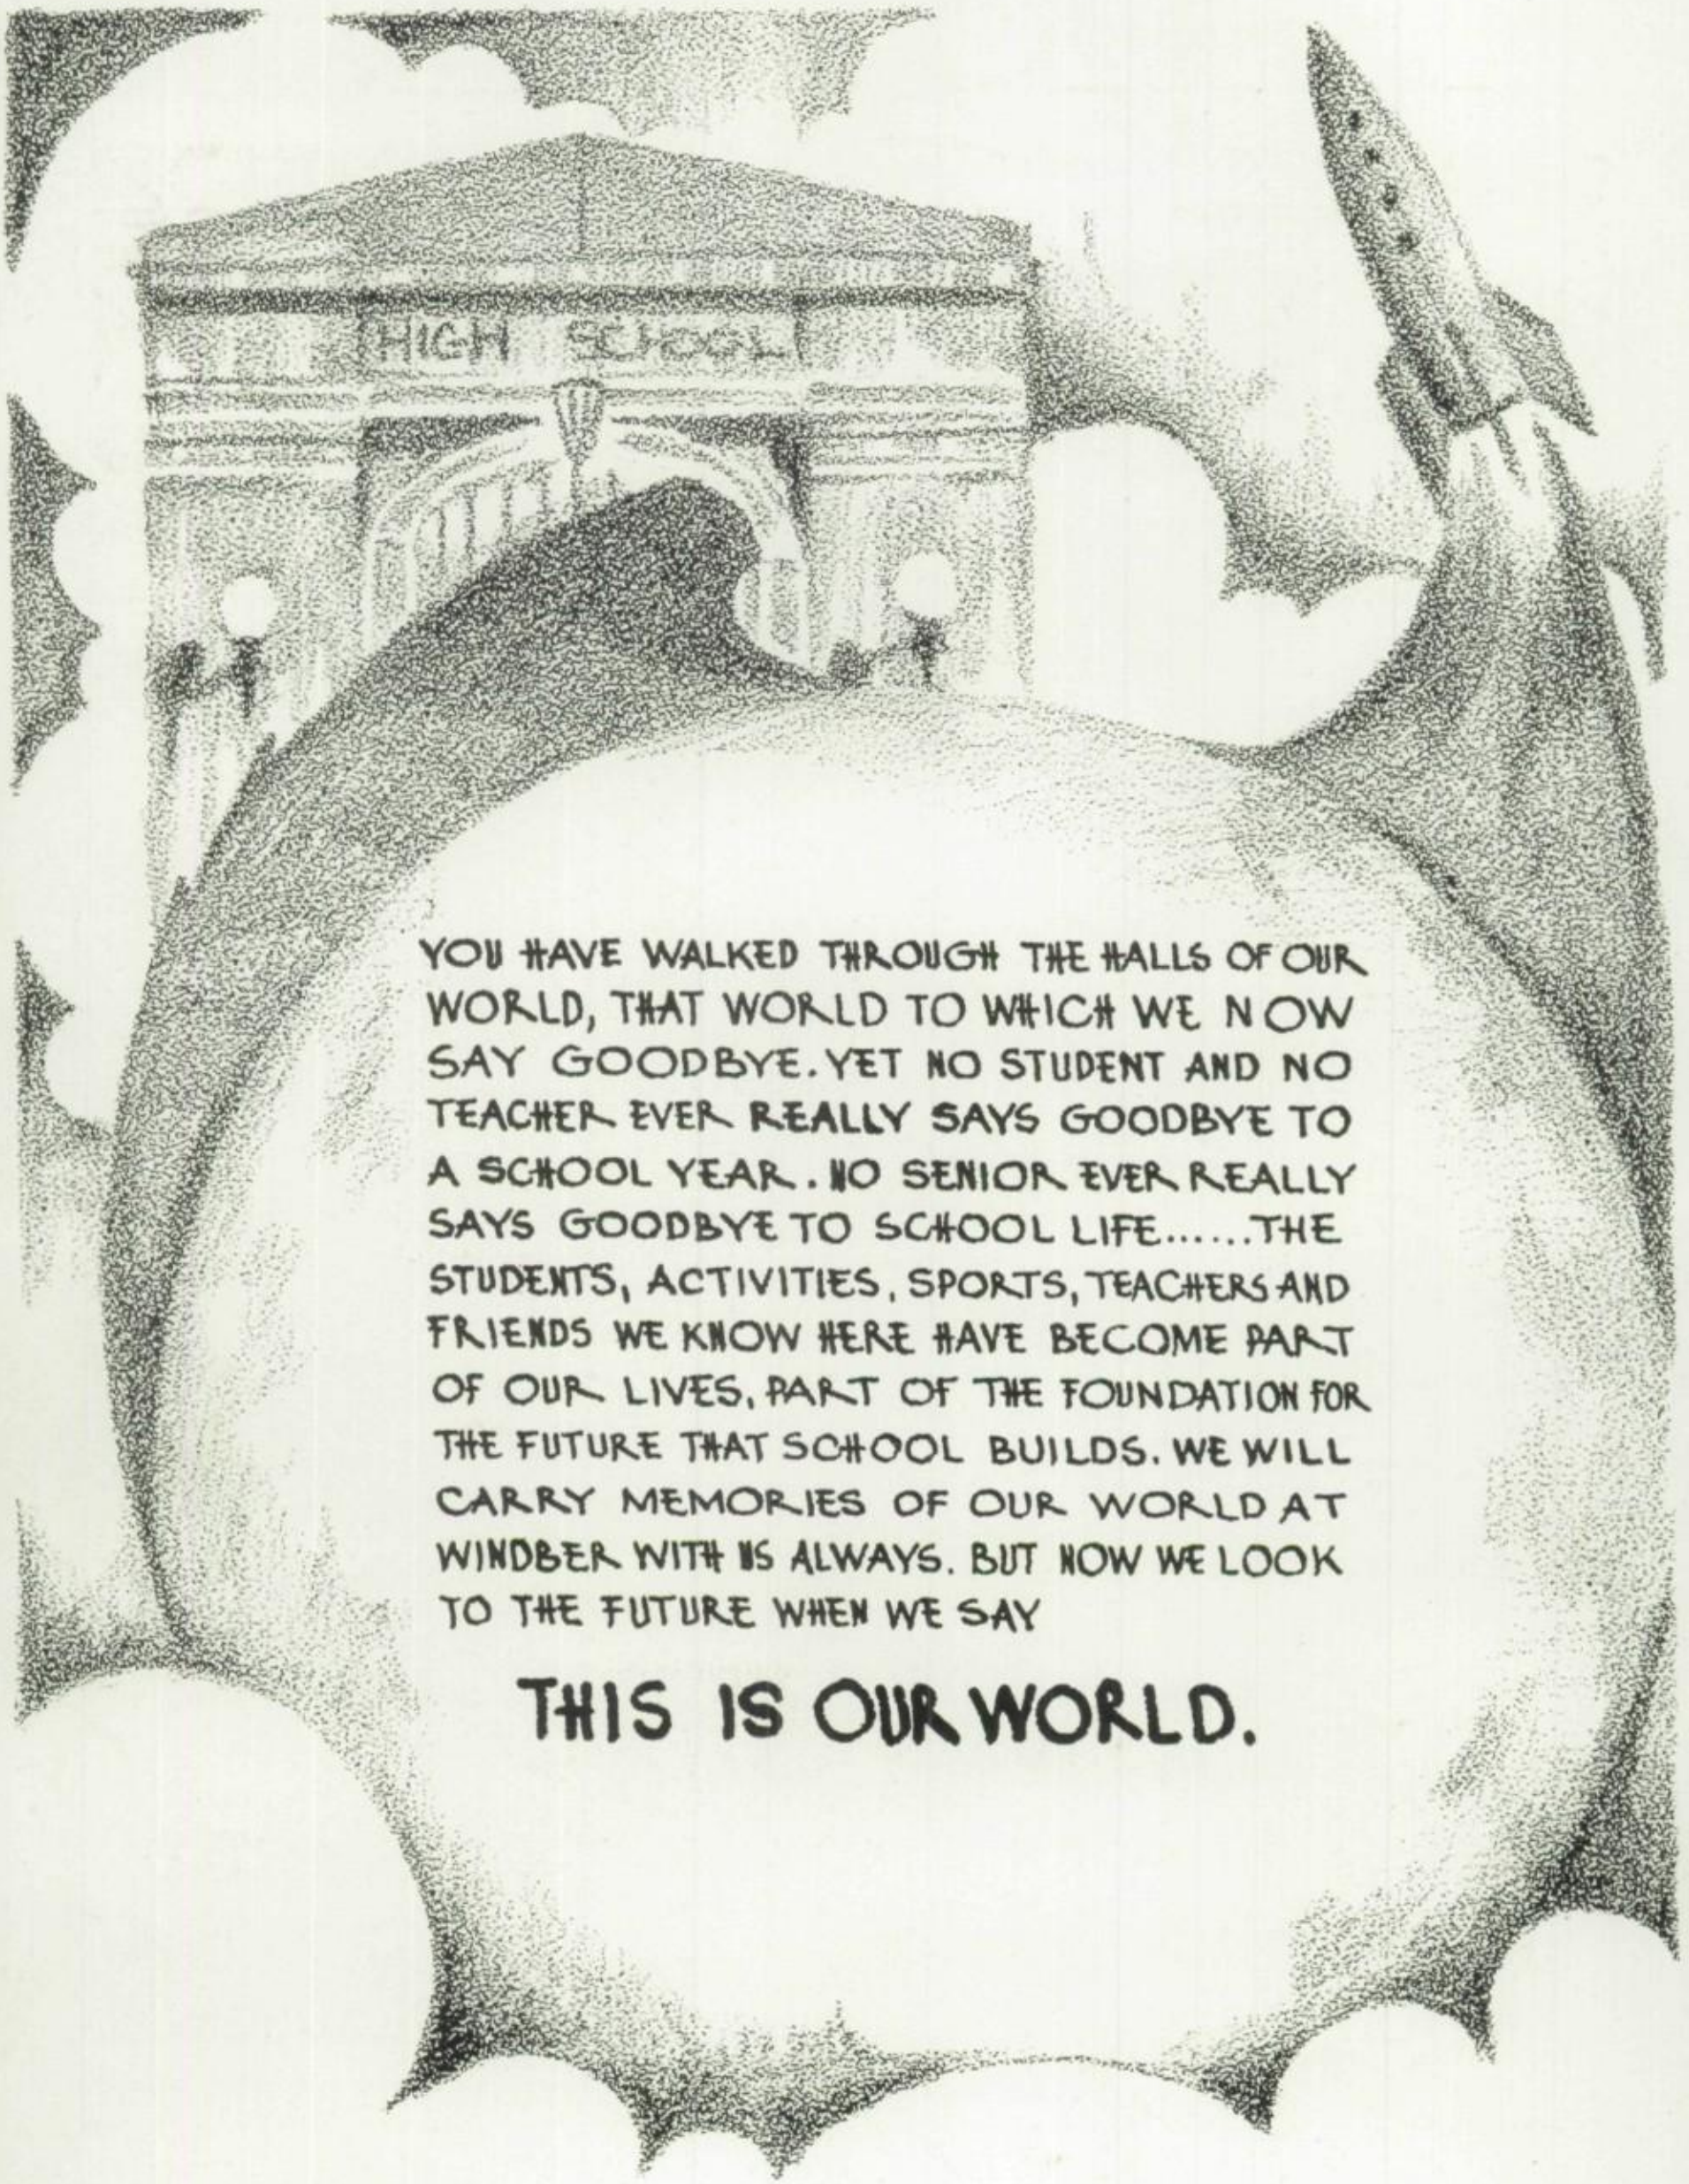
"W" Dance



C. Wozny and J. Csordas have met after coming down the side aisles on their way to being crowned King and Queen of the Varsity "W" Dance for their senior year.

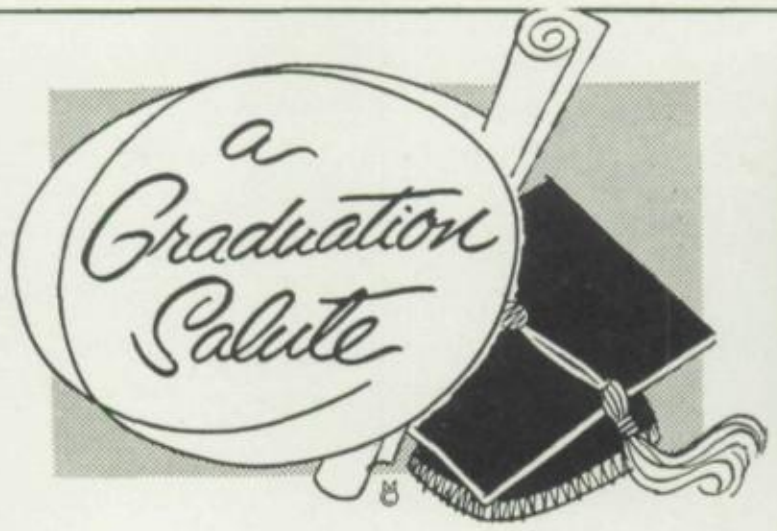


The "Star-Lites," a combo of high school students, provided music for the dance. They are T. Heckler on bass, B. Senior on sax, W. Swansinger on trumpet, J. Streletz on accordian, and R. James on drums.



YOU HAVE WALKED THROUGH THE HALLS OF OUR WORLD, THAT WORLD TO WHICH WE NOW SAY GOODBYE. YET NO STUDENT AND NO TEACHER EVER REALLY SAYS GOODBYE TO A SCHOOL YEAR. NO SENIOR EVER REALLY SAYS GOODBYE TO SCHOOL LIFE.....THE STUDENTS, ACTIVITIES, SPORTS, TEACHERS AND FRIENDS WE KNOW HERE HAVE BECOME PART OF OUR LIVES, PART OF THE FOUNDATION FOR THE FUTURE THAT SCHOOL BUILDS. WE WILL CARRY MEMORIES OF OUR WORLD AT WINDBER WITH US ALWAYS. BUT NOW WE LOOK TO THE FUTURE WHEN WE SAY

THIS IS OUR WORLD.



CLASS OF '59

GOOD WISHES!

We salute you, Graduates, as you go forth from Commencement, facing the future with confidence and enthusiasm. May success and happiness be yours . . . you deserve the best.
